

2023-2024 COURSE RECOMMENDATIONS

Considerations as you review your course recommendations:

- Your teachers considered many factors when determining their recommendations for you. If you have any questions, talk to your current teacher in that department.
- Your recommended courses are subject to change if your academic work changes significantly.
- You do not need to be recommended for most elective courses, but some have prerequisites.

Considerations as you request courses:

- Consider your overall load, not just each individual course.
- Balance and perspective in your life is important, but also challenge yourself appropriately.
- Select coursework that engages you intellectually and meets your goals for college and beyond. Colleges expect you to challenge yourself while maintaining strong grades.
- Consider the total number of Honors, AP, and IB courses you request.

(Requesting a course for which you were NOT recommended will trigger the relevant department to consider your request.)
